

Gentlemen,

I am concerned with the proposal to allow wide band digital transmission over power lines. The spectrum from 3.5MHz to 14MHz has become increasingly noisy over the last few years, mostly because of the proliferation of digital devices. These devices currently are regulated, but radiated emissions are only regulated above 30MHz. Anything which further pollutes the lower portion of the HF spectrum strikes me as a bad idea.

Doug Moore KB9TMY (Formerly K6HWY)